COUNTY POWER SUSTAINED

KAPIOLANI PARK APPROPRIATIONS BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS ARE ALL RIGHT SAYS THE SUPREME COURT—WRITS OF MANDAMUS AGAINST AUDITOR BICKNELL, ISSUED BY JUDGE ROBINSON AFFIRMED THIS MORNING.

The County has a right to appropriate money for Kapiolani park, or any other public park here. This was settled in a brief decision of the Supreme Court this morning in the Kapiolani park test cases. The decision is one more ruling by the court in favor of larger county powers. It was rendered in the matter of the applications of the Pacific Oil and Transportation Company for writs of mandamus against County Auditor Bicknell. The opinion of the court, by Justice Wilder, is as follows: "These two cases were argued together and are appeals from judgments granting peremptory writs of mandamus against the county auditor of Oahu to compel him to issue warrants on the county treasurer to pay two claims against the county, which claims have been examined, allowed and ordered to be paid by the Board of Supervisors, one for a certain amount of oil for a road in Kapiolani Park and the other for repairs to a dry used in that park. "The question to be decided is, whether the County of Oahu has power to appropriate county funds for the maintenance and upkeep of Kapiolani park. "As to the claim for the oil, there is no question but that that is a lawful and valid one. The county has express power to maintain 'public streets,'

Lawless Example And Crime

GOVERNOR CARTER SAYS LACK OF RESPECT FOR LAW IS A LOCAL FAILING.

"Liquor may be one of the causes of the numerous criminal offenses," said Governor Carter this morning, referring to the multiplicity of homicides in the islands, "but it is by no means the only cause. A general failure to show proper respect for the law in our community, from top to bottom, is also a potent cause of crime of all kinds. I believe that we are peculiarly deficient in this regard, and that in view of our situation and the problems we have to face we should be specially careful."

The governor repeated his oft-expressed views, along the lines of General Grant's famous declaration that the way to get rid of a bad law is to enforce it. Carter has many times expressed himself as favoring strict enforcement of the laws as they are, leaving it to the legislature to change those which are not good.

"When you have a community filled with people who do not respect the law," said the governor, "it is ready for crimes of serious nature. We need to inculcate respect for the law on every hand. Take the cases of our plantation managers, men who have to assume very grave responsibilities and usually do it with great credit. But there may be one who thinks it all right to violate the Sunday law and have men working. Here perhaps is one who thinks that on his lands he may allow violations of the liquor law because he can control it. And gambling laws provide another illustration. They are violated without prosecution under the theory that you can't enforce a law against public sentiment."

"The spirit that comes of this attitude towards the law is one that leads to crime. Undoubtedly liquor plays a large part in causing the many homicidal offenses on our criminal calendars. But I believe that the general lack of proper respect for the law itself is also

HERB YOUNG ON THE MOVE

ERSTWHILE MASTER OF THE MA-LOLO DEPARTS FOR PASTURES NEW THIS MORNING.

Herb Young left for the coast after all. But he took a larger vessel than he had originally intended. He departed this morning on the S. S. China for San Francisco. His departure was quite a surprise in some quarters but with people who had cause to be interested in his movements, the "retirement" of the energetic young business man was not unexpected. Young bought a cabin ticket and went aboard the vessel without reporting to the doctor subsequently he was discovered and made to report to that official. Young showed himself about once on the upper deck of the vessel but he did not remain long in the gaze of the crowd on the wharf. Just what Young's future plans are cannot be stated. But as a sucker is born every minute Young, it is said by

Work on The Dam Is Stopped

PIT BEING DUG TO AID KELLOGG WHO IS ON BOARD THE S. S. ALAMEDA.

Construction work on the Nuuanu dam has entirely ceased, and no more work will be done until Engineer Kellogg arrives. Kellogg is on the Alameda, having sent a cable to Superintendent Holloway just before the vessel sailed on Saturday, stating that he was coming. In the meantime a pit is being dug through such of the dam as has been constructed, to allow Kellogg to descend and experiment in the place where a rod was said to have been shoved deep into loose soil at the very foundation of the dam.

The Governor has not yet decided whether to appoint other engineers to co-operate with Kellogg. He is somewhat at sea on the proposition owing to the failure or refusal of the Merchants' Association to answer his question as to whether Kellogg is regarded as satisfactory. In reply to Carter's question on this subject the association declined to express itself, but suggested that two other engineers be employed to act with him. The governor is still without an answer to the question he put some time ago, so to whether after Kellogg is all through, the matter will come up again, with statements that Kellogg's report is not to be relied upon.

It is expected that Kellogg will dig pits through the damming already done. One pit four feet square is being dug now, in preparation for him. This is to investigate the charge made by Patterson that at the foundation of the dam it was easy to shove a rod deep into soft ground. "It was suggested that the matter might be left till Kellogg comes," said the governor, "but I favored digging the pit at once, by way of saving time. Of course he can dig such others as he wants."

"We do not know anything about what Kellogg's report will be. If it is against the work, that will mean an abandonment of the present plans, I suppose. He is to make an entirely independent investigation."

CONSUL SAITO IS EXPECTED SOON

HE WILL BRING WITH HIM THE PLANS FOR THE NEW JAPANESE CONSULATE BUILDING.

Consul General Saito of Japan is expected to return to Honolulu in the near future although nothing definite is yet known. It is almost certain that he will be again at his post here before the first of August.

When the Consul General returns it is thought that he will bring with him the complete plans for the new consulate which is to be erected here by the Japanese Government at a cost of 200,000 yen or $100,000.
